Thieves steal Ring Road lights switch boards

- Police take crime seriously; teams begin night patrolling, vehicles checked
- Unfortunate development, says MP; high-resolution CCTV cameras to be installed soon
- Night surveillance by Police to be regular affair henceforth

Mysuru, Dec. 4 (RK&BCT)- After years of perpetual darkness, streetlights on one portion of the Outer Ring Road (ORR) from Manipal Hospital Junction, Hanchya, Sathagalli, Devegowda Circle, T. Narasipur Junction, APMC up to Nanjangud Road Junction became functional on the night of Dec. 1.

But just a day later, the switch boards of a couple of lights were stolen by criminals and some stretches of the 12-crore lighting project were plunged into darkness. According to the Police and Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, areas along the Ring Road near Rajivnagar Second Stage near Narayana Hrudayalaya were the target of the criminals and four to five MCB (Miniature Circuit Breaker distribution box) switch boards were taken away from the poles.

These switch boards were installed on the top of the electric poles so that it cannot reach the people from the ground. But criminals climbed on top of a truck to reach the boards. After prying open the boxes, they disconnected the circuits and removed the switches. "We have discovered that certain portions of the north and east of the Ring Road have become the target of the criminals," Police said.

Tough Police action

Following the crime, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha spoke to the City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh and sought night patrolling by his staff and registering of criminal cases against the perpetrators of the crime.

Taking swift action, teams from Udayagiri, Narasimharaja and Alanahalli were formed to patrol the Ring Road during night and the surveillance began last night under the leadership of Udayagiri Inspector P.K. Raju. The night patrolling will be a continuous process to instil fear among criminals and to reassure the commuters that the road is safe to travel.

As part of the night patrolling, vehicles moving on the road were screened and the details of the to and from travel were noted down. Even two-wheelers were not spared and their documents and commuter details were checked.

Unfortunate development: MP

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha said that high-definition CCTV cameras will be installed soon on the stretch and as a first step, a DD for Rs. 5 lakh has been handed over to the MCC Commissioner yesterday through Indian Bank.

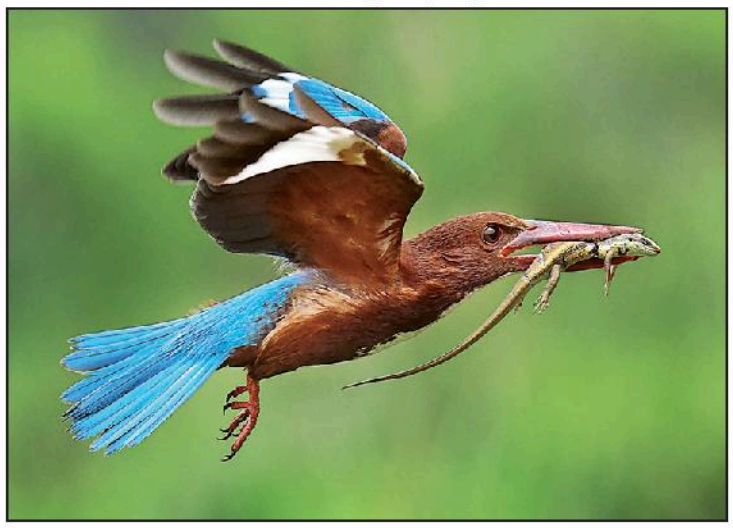
'Kingfisher on flight' bags second prize at National Photography Exhibition



Wildlife photographer from Mysuru G.S. Ravishankar has bagged second prize for his photo of 'Minchulli' bird — 'Kingfisher on flight' — at the National Photography Exhibition 2022 organised as part of the International Scouts and Guides Cultural Jamboree. The Jamboree has been organised this month at Moodubidire in Dakshina Kannada. There were over 900 participants in the competition and Ravishankar secured second place in the 'Wildlife' category. The first and third places were bagged by Dr. Pramod Govind Shanbhag and Arjun Haarith respectively.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

With the group stage of the Fifa World Cup winding down, Qatar 2022 has already seen the best-ever performance of non-European and non-South America teams in the history of the tournament. Qualifying to the knockout stage are Morocco and Senegal from Africa, and Japan, Australia and South Korea from Asia, making this a truly Asia-Africa party.

There have been some stunning victories — Morocco's over European giant Belgium and Japan's over powerhouses Germany and Spain. Similarly, Saudi Arabia overcame Messi's Argentina while Tunisia downed defending champions France in group games. Add to this the woebegone performances by Germany, Belgium, Denmark and a hitherto underwhelming Uruguay, the European-South American football duopoly appears to have been rattled.

No team outside Europe and South America has ever won the World Cup so far. In fact, only two teams outside the two continents have ever made it to the semifinals of the tournament — the US in 1930 and South Korea in 2002. But the World Cup has a big Europe skew — it gets 13 slots compared to four or five for Asia and five for Africa. True, Europe may be the financial engine of the footballing world and boast top-notch leagues. But as Qatar 2022 has shown, both performance and money are diffusing to Asia and Africa. With World Cup 2026 in North America slated to have 48 teams compared to 32 now, Asia and Africa should get more slots. The World Cup is truly becoming the world's cup.

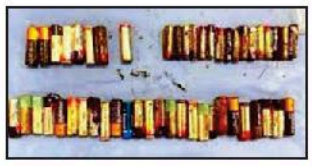
55 batteries in woman's body



Dublin: A 66-year-old woman reportedly swallowed over 50 cylindrical batteries in an act of deliberate self-harm. After she was admitted to the hospital, the doctors at St Vincent's Hospital in Dublin, Ireland, removed the batteries from her stomach and colon.

The X-ray of the woman revealed the foreign objects in her body. Doctors initially decided to wait that she would pass the batteries out of body naturally. Though she released five AA batteries in the first week, subsequent X-rays showed that most were still stuck inside — and the woman began experiencing abdominal pain.

After realising that her distended stomach was hanging above the pubic bone due to the weight of the batteries, surgeons cut into her abdomen and successfully removed 46 of them. A total number of batteries ingested by the woman was 55.

Man collects 11,000 bottles of hot sauce

Raleigh: A North Carolina man has what he believes to be the world's largest collection of hot sauce, totalling about 11,000 bottles. High Point resident Vic Clinco, who started collecting hot sauce about 26 years ago, said his collection now totals about 11,000 bottles, and is believed to be the largest collection of hot sauce in the world.

Clinco, who documents his collecting on social media, said he has been in contact with Guinness World Records about making his collection officially the largest in the world. He said he hopes to organize tasting events in the future.

"I want it to be shared with anyone that has the love of the heat as I do. My end goal is to have so many bottles that there is no wall left in sight." Clinco said.

Make Ashokapuram Railway Station commuter-friendly

Sir,

It is very heartening to know that the South Western Railway (SWR), Mysuru Division, has undertaken many developmental works at Ashokapuram Railway Station.

This Station has been placed on the backyards of the famous Railway Workshop and is being used to park the trains which come for repair, overhauling reconstruction as well as dismantling. As a result, Railway commuters are not getting easy approach roads. This Station is very important because this is the gateway for thousands of construction and other workers, students, office-goers and general public from rural areas of southern district of Mysuru.

The eastern side of the Station is linked to Manandavadi Road only after passing through half-a-kilometre. Getting a local conveyance from the Station is very difficult. No city bus facility is available on Manandavadi Road, since all the city buses are passing through Visweshwaranagar route and other buses will not stop at the junction point of Manandavadi Road.

On the other hand, on the western side, where it seems new Platforms are being constructed, there is the Railway parallel Pampapathi Road, which connects south western Mysuru areas like Jayanagar, Kuvempunagar, Ramakrishnanagar, Srirampura, BEML Nagar etc.

I request the Railway authorities to create new exit point, on this Pampapathi Railway parallel road for easy movement of passengers. Rail authorities may also arrange to stop the passenger trains on these newly constructed Platforms. This gives scope for new logistics to come up on western side of the Station without much difficulties.

Autos and city buses can easily be plied towards other extensions. A hassle-free approach to local conveyance can be possible with this modification. Even scooter parking can be looked into in this area. A considered view to make Ashokapuram Railway Station a commuter-friendly must be taken. The Station should not be earmarked as only parking yard to ease the traffic at Mysuru Station, besides parking coaches which arrive for repair/ reconstruction purposes.

Since our MP Pratap Simha is putting his heart and soul in development of Railways around Mysuru, it would be much appreciated if the ultimate benefits reach daily commuters from rural and semi-urban centres and hassle-free approach.

Bahuroopi-2022: Painting camp begins

Mysuru, Dec. 4 (MTY&DM)- With the countdown for the mega 'Bahuroopi' National Theatre Festival having begun, a Painting Camp, organised as part of it, began at B.V. Karanth Ranga Chavadi in Rangayana premises here on Saturday. A total of 22 CAVA students are taking part in the camp and all the works done at the camp will be put up for display during Bahuroopi-2022 Theatre Fest that will be held from Dec. 8 to 15.

Speaking after inaugurating the camp, DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra said that every artist or an intellectual has the right to make their own expressions or opinions. However, our thoughts, ideas and beliefs must not encroach upon those of others, he opined. Pointing out that we have to honour our multi-culture and liberalism, the DC said that artists must be committed to their work.

Observing that we have to face many challenges when we open up ourselves to innovation, Dr. Rajendra said that Rangayana is the most suitable platform for creativity and young talents should make use of it.

Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa said that respecting everyone is itself equality. Noting that those who talk about freedom of expression must not ignore the other side of it, he said that those who are intolerant of expression do not have the mindset to accept differing ideas and thoughts.

Contending that attempts to bring a Court stay to his play 'Tipu Nija Kanasugalu' is an assault on our rights, he said that a group which does not have any respect for our Motherland, is very much amongst us. Bemoaning that our culture and emotions are diminishing, Cariappa said that our feelings are getting destroyed and intolerance has entered our kitchens too through 'Cooker bombs'.

Renowned artist, sculptor and writer L. Shivalingappa said that inclusivity will lead to a more stronger Indianness. Stressing on the need to maintain unity, he highlighted the role of painters in bringing the society together.

Rangayana Deputy Director Nirmala Mathapati, CAVA Administrative Officer H.M. Jaishankar, Bahuroopi-2022 Convenor Jagdish Manavarthe and others were present.

Gaping hole exposes state of infrastructure

Commuting on Paschimavahini-Kannur Road in Srirangapatna a nightmarish experience

By Vinay Karekura

Srirangapatna, Dec. 4- In another instance of a breakdown of infrastructure, a portion of Paschimavahini-Kannur Road crumbled and collapsed late last night. People travelling on the busy road this morning were in for a surprise as they stared at a gaping circular hole on the road caused by soil under the asphalt sinking.

With the increasing number of patched-up roads and crater-like potholes on the stretch, helped in no small measure by official apathy, a hassle-free ride remains a distant dream for most commuters.

The Paschimavahini-Kannur Road links important destinations like the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, Balamuri, Karekura, Yedamuri, Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary and almost all the temples in and around Srirangapatna. Also, this road is used by hundreds of commuters every day to reach their offices in Mysuru.

Due to heavy rain and continuous water discharge from the KRS Dam, the Ranganathittu and Cauvery River banks were out of bounds for tourists for months. Also, the KRS Dam and Brindavan Gardens were closed recently for over a month due to leopard scare.

Now both these hurdles have faded from public memory and tourists are coming back to Srirangapatna. But their visit is proving cumbersome and back-breaking as the entire Paschimavahini-Kannur Road is ridden with potholes and as the asphalt has given away, dust and jelly stones dominate the stretch.

Drainage failure?

As a vehicle passes on the road, it lifts dust and the vision of other vehicle drivers is blinded and they have to wait till the dust settles down. This is leading to many accidents.

Surprisingly, the road works were initiated two months back by MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah with an estimated cost of Rs. 9.60 but the repair works have not yet begun.

The gaping hole at the middle of the road might have happened due to the failure of a drainage line, say commuters. The road might have been constructed after the drainage line was laid. Due to improper filling work, the soil under the asphalt might have remained loose. With the incessant and heavy rains, the water might have swept under the asphalt, causing the soil to give way and the sinkhole to appear, they said.

Travelling on the road has become a nightmarish experience especially during the weekends as most of the tourists who come to Mysuru travel on this road to reach the tourist destinations. Due to constant movement of normal and heavy vehicles, the existing bad-shaped road is further deteriorated.

Shoddy works, say villagers

While the contractor has begun the repair works in small stretches, villagers and the public have claimed that the works are being undertaken in a shoddy manner. Villagers, who inspected the works at Paschimavahini and Palahalli, alleged that the road is not being laid as per the standards.

While the contract conditions mention that jelly stones up to 10 inches have to be laid, the contractor has laid only three inches, violating the norms. After this gross anomaly came to light, villagers stopped the road works and summoned the officials from the Public Works Department (PWD) and expressed their displeasure.

Responding to the allegations made by the villagers, PWD Assistant Executive Engineer Mahesh and Junior Engineer Revanna assured that the road works will be done as per the conditions and guidelines mentioned in the Detailed Project Report.

Thousands take part in Sankeertana Yatra at Srirangapatna amid tight Police security

Hanuma Jayanti celebrations at the Fort Town

Srirangapatna, Dec. 4 (Vinay Karekura&DM)- The Fort Town of Srirangapatna on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway, seemed to be painted in saffron colour today as thousands of Hanuma Maaladharis (Hanuma devotees), dressed in saffron attire and holding flags, took out 'Sankeertana Yatra' in the town as part of Hanuma Jayanti celebrations.

The Yatra, which began from Anjaneyaswamy Temple close to the famed Nimishamba Temple at Ganjam near Srirangapatna this morning, passed through the main thoroughfares of Srirangapatna town, before culminating at the famed Sri Ranganathaswamy Temple, covering a distance of nearly 10 kms.

All the prominent roads, lanes and circles of the Fort Town were dotted with thousands of saffron flags, banners and buntings that carried pictures of Lord Hanuman and other Hindu symbols.

Police had provided tight security all around the town for the massive Yatra and had completely barricaded the Jamia Masjid premises in order to prevent anyone from entering the area by any means.

Over 1,500 Police personnel, six KSRP Battalions and nine DR units were deployed all along the procession route from Ganjam to the town. The Police had also installed more than 25 CCTV cameras at vantage points and used 2 drone cameras for surveillance. The security was supervised by Mandya Superintendent of Police (SP) N. Yatish and other top cops.

Ahead of the Yatra, Mandya Police had taken out a route march in Srirangapatna town yesterday as a precautionary measure for law and order maintenance. The Police had also set up check posts at all four entry and exit points of the town.

Will Bommai visit Ch'nagar on Dec. 12?

It will be CM's second visit; jinx theory makes rounds again with elections round the corner

Basavaraj Bommai

Chamarajanagar, Dec. 4 (SS&BCT)- Keeping his promise of not believing in the so-called jinx associated with the visit to Chamarajanagar and his word that he would go to that place as often as required, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is likely to visit Chamarajanagar on Dec. 12 to inaugurate and lay foundation for a slew of development works.

During the visit, the benefits of various schemes of different departments will also be distributed to the eligible persons. It will be Bommai's second visit to Chamarajanagar and the first visit was in October 2021 when the then President Ram Nath Kovind came there to inaugurate the 450-bed hospital of the Chamarajanagar Institute of Medical Sciences.

Though it will be Bommai's second visit to Chamarajanagar, the news of the visit has set off speculations, especially when the State is inching towards Assembly elections.

Many of Basavaraj Bommai's predecessors had avoided visiting Chamarajanagar given the belief that a visit to the town would hasten their political downfall. When reporters had questioned Bommai then on his visit to a jinxed place, Bommai had asked, "No one holds on to power eternally. And haven't CMs lost power who never visited Chamarajanagar?"

"On several occasions in the past, I have visited Chamarajanagar as Water Resources Minister. It is the duty of the Chief Minister to visit a district. I am doing my duty. Beliefs and superstitions are for others, not for me. The question is not about the jinx, but about the duty of the CM," he had stated.

"The fault lies not in the place but in our outlook and perception and I am happy to visit the town and would do so as often as required," he had retorted. As per the letter written by Bommai's Special Officer Channabasavesha to the Chamarajanagar DC on Nov. 29, the CM will visit Chamarajanagar on Dec. 12 following an invitation from District Minister V. Somanna.

In connection with the CM's visit, Somanna held a series of meetings with the local authorities and officers. He said the Chief Minister would inaugurate development projects or lay the foundation to infrastructure works and all preparations should be completed ahead of time. The CM would also visit MM Hills and chair a meeting of the Male Mahadeshwara Hills Development Authority, said Somanna.

THE JINX THEORY

• CM Bommai's father S.R. Bommai lost Chief Minister's post after visiting Chamarajanagar in 1989.

• The jinx theory began circulating from the times of D. Devaraj Urs who lost the Chief Minister's post within six months of his visit to Chamarajanagar in 1980.

• Later, R. Gundu Rao, Ramakrishna Hegde and Veerendra Patil lost power after visiting Chamarajanagar.

• Since these losses were played up in the media, S. Bangarappa, M. Veerappa Moily, H.D. Deve Gowda, J.H. Patel, S.M. Krishna and N. Dharam Singh avoided visiting the district.

• When Chamarajanagar celebrated its new district status in 1997, J.H. Patel did not inaugurate it in Chamarajanagar but did it on MM Hills in Kollegal.

• S.M. Krishna did not once visit Chamarajanagar as CM.

• Former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy visited and lost power due to some political developments in the State.

Thieves steal switch boards

"There will be one camera every two kilometres and to start with, 20 cameras will be installed. We will also look for funding by companies under their Corporate Social Responsibility for this CCTV camera installation," MP Pratap Simha said.

"Switch board theft is a sad and an unfortunate development. The thieves will not even get Rs. 500 to Rs. 600 from the sale of the switchboards. But they are causing a large public inconvenience. We are being targeted in this way whenever we do some good for the people. On one side, we develop the areas to provide a safe and secure environment and on the other side, there is mindless destruction," he regretted.

Five arrested for bid to kidnap businessman

Arrested include petrol tanker driver; one car, two-wheeler, three mobile phones seized

Mysuru, Dec. 4- Narasimharaja (NR) Police have arrested five persons on charges of attempting to kidnap a businessman in city and have seized a car, two-wheeler and three mobiles phones from them. Businessman's petrol bunk tanker driver is among five accused, who have been arrested.

The businessman, whom the accused tried to kidnap is 47-year-old C.M. Prakash.

Details: Prakash's father, who used to run a petrol bunk and other businesses in T. Narasipur, had passed away on Nov. 17. Prakash's wife M. Savitha and sister Manjula came to Mysuru in a Toyata Innova SUV which was driven by driver Mahadevaswamy to purchase clothes for the rituals on Nov. 24.

Prakash, who had been to Maddur on some work, called his wife over the phone and on learning that they were in Mysuru, told her to wait for him on the Ring Road towards T. Narasipur near Manipal Hospital Junction.

Prakash, who alighted from the KSRTC bus near Manipal Hospital Junction at about 10.50 pm, was crossing the road to reach the other side when an unidentified man, kept his hand on Prakash's shoulder. The person then hugged Prakash tightly and tried to push him into the waiting car.

But Prakash, who tried to wriggle himself free, shouted for help and his wife and driver Mahadevaswamy, who heard his screams, began to run towards Prakash.

While Prakash was trying to free himself, his bag fell down and the unidentified man, who took the bag and sat in the waiting car with three others in it. The car then sped away in the wrong side of the road towards T. Narasipur side.

On Nov. 27, Prakash received a call from mobile number 93809-46720 and the caller said "Prakash anna, were you afraid when we took your bag and fled," and disconnected the call. Prakash, who immediately came to Mysuru, lodged a complaint at NR Police Station.

NR Inspector Azaruddin, who took up the investigation, arrested five accused, including petrol bunk tanker driver Nanjundaswamy on Dec. 1. It is learnt that Nanjundaswamy had hatched a plot to kidnap Prakash and hold him for ransom.

Nanjundaswamy had collected information about Prakash going to Maddur on Nov. 24 and his wife waiting for him on the Ring Road. He had then plotted to kidnap Prakash along with his accomplices but as his wife and driver rushed to his rescue, the attempt to kidnap Prakash failed, it is said.

Woman robbed of gold chain

Mysuru, Dec. 4- A 53-year-old woman was robbed of her chain in V.V. Puram Police limits on Nov. 30.

Prema, a resident of Vinayakanagar Fourth main, was returning from a wedding at Leela Channaiah Kalyana Mantap along with her husband Singachar and a relative at about 10.45 pm on the night of Nov. 30, when two bike-borne miscreants managed to yank off her 12.5 gm. chain from her neck near the auto stand on Vinayakanagar First main (Paduvarahalli) and fled in a flash.

Prema later lodged a complaint with the jurisdictional Jayalakshmipuram Police, who have registered a case in this regard.

Conman grabs property of deceased woman by creating fake documents

Mysuru, Dec. 4- In yet another incident of creation of fake documents, a conman who got the property of a deceased woman transferred in his name by creating fake documents, has also cheated a bank by borrowing loans after pledging them as collateral security.

The matter came to light when the Bank authorities initiated the process for auctioning the property for default on loan repayment.

Details: N.T. Susheela, a city resident, had purchased house bearing No.1500/3 (CH No. 58) at K.R. Vanam in Chamaraja Mohalla in 1961. As she had no issues of her own, she took care of her younger sister's son Parthasarathy. Susheela died on May 10, 2014 and her foster son Parthasarathy too died of ill health on Jan. 2. 2022.

Meanwhile, one Hariprasad, a 40-year-old resident of BEML Layout in the city, brought an 80-year-old woman projecting her as N.T. Susheela (deceased), the owner of the house and got Susheela's property transferred to his name by creating fake documents.

Later, Hariprasad along with a woman named Pratibha, obtained a joint loan from Nazarbad branch of Canara Bank, by pledging the house 'documents' as collateral security. But as Hariprasad failed to repay the loan, the Canara Bank authorities issued a notice for auctioning the house, in which Anuradha, wife of late Parthasarathy stayed, when the fake document creation came to light. Later, Anuradha lodged a complaint with Ashokapuram Police who have begun investigation into the case, it is learnt.

Mahati, who told Ravindra about the part time job, informed him (Ravindra) that if he deposits money and fulfil the tasks given to him, he would receive commission, interest and also bonus which would be double the money he had deposited and got Rs. 13,82,529 transferred from Ravindra but did not provide the job, thus cheating him.

In the second case, fraudsters, who called one Dharanesh of K.R. Mills Colony on his mobile phone, told him that his (Dharanesh) debit card was blocked and sought the card details from Dharanesh to unblock the card.

But as soon as Dharanesh gave all the details of his debit card, a total amount of Rs. 1.22 lakh was withdrawn from his Bank account.

'Technology to assist, reinvent sustainability'

Mysuru, Dec. 4 (MK&BCT)- The State Government has accorded top priority to promote sustainable development, said Minister for Higher Education, IT/BT Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan.

In his welcome address at the opening ceremony of a week-long global event UNLEASH-22 (innovation lab to realise United Nations sustainable development goals), attended by talents from more than 100 countries at Infosys premises last evening, he said that sustainable development was the greatest challenge that the world was facing today.

The Government's intention is to achieve sustainability in all the possible sectors including healthcare, renewable energy, clean water, etc. "Governments, businesses, innovators need to work together to make sure that technology is actively managed to align with societal needs and address its most urgent goals — Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)," he added.

It goes without saying that innovation and technology is the solution to major challenges today. Agriculture, health, education, social impact or governance — name a challenge and there will be an innovative solution out there for each use case, he said.

No. 1 in India's Innovation Index

Claiming that Karnataka, which had emerged as No. 1 in the India's Innovation Index for the last three years, was the innovation gateway for the world into India, the Minister said the State Government had started a unique innovation programme to achieve SDGs – Grand Challenges Karnataka. The programme aims to channelise innovation for social impact.

"The Government identifies societal problems that are linked to SDGs. The problem statement is given to start-ups and innovators to propose potential solutions. We have conducted challenges related to mobility, water, clean environment, education, primary health among other areas," he said.

New Age Innovation Network

With an aim to encourage spirit of Innovation and Entrepreneurship, New Age Innovation Network (NAIN) has been established in the districts, beyond Bengaluru. "A network of incubation centres has been set up in 30 engineering institutions to encourage entrepreneurship and innovation in cities beyond Bengaluru. All such incubators will be networked and connected to facilitate exchange of thoughts, ideas and collaboration across institutions and disciplines," he noted.

New technologies are rapidly transforming all aspects of our society, sectors and markets. Innovators are re-imagining how we innovate, create, distribute and capture value in the new systems that are emerging, the Minister added.

About the event

UNLEASH – 22 is aimed at developing new, innovative and scalable solutions to address the United Nations' SDGs and accelerate positive change towards SDGs by mobilising young talented people in community leadership, problem-solving and launching social and environmental solutions.

It will focus on seven SDGs including good health and well-being under which talents will find solutions to improve diabetes awareness, access to healthcare and prevention with focus on non-communicable diseases, besides finding solutions for prevention, diagnosis and accessibility of mental healthcare for all.

In addition, the focus will be on clean water and sanitation under which talents will co-create solutions to address current water and sanitation challenges, focussing on new initiatives to protect clean water sources and to better manage water use. Under the SDG for affordable and clean energy, talents will develop energy solutions needed for energy transition.
